

Survivorship-Joint Tenants

A guide to preparing the documents

Preparing a Survivorship Application – Joint Tenants

This step-by-step guide is designed to show you how to prepare and lodge a simple survivorship application upon the death of one or more proprietors, who are shown on the title as joint tenants.

This type of application should only be made:

- Where the Certificate of Title states the proprietors as joint tenants
- Where joint tenancy is deemed as no reference is shown in the registered proprietor's section of the title.

If you are completing the forms yourself, we advise you to exercise care as the documents involved are legally binding. A competent professional, such as a solicitor or settlement agent, should always be considered when preparing any land transaction document.

It is important to read through the whole of this information guide. Being familiar with the important information provided in the guide will assist if you need to contact Landgate to clarify any part of the process. Useful contacts are listed on the back page.

What you should know about a Certificate of Title

Certificates of Title are created by Landgate usually as a result of registration or approval of a subdivisional plan. Original titles are always kept at Landgate.

Some limitations or encumbrances may prevent the registration of a transfer or other interests on a Certificate of Title. For this reason, it is recommended that a copy of the Certificate of Title be obtained from Landgate, to assist in completing the Transfer of Land form. We commonly refer to this as a 'title search'. A title search will show the spelling of the names of the registered proprietors/owners.

For a fee, you can conduct a title search and obtain a copy of a Record of Certificate of Title.

What if all owners who are registered on the Certificate of Title as joint tenants are deceased and the title was not updated when the first joint tenant died?

When this has occurred, two documents need to be lodged together at Landgate:

- 1. A Survivorship Application, and
- 2. An Application by Personal Representative

The process to change ownership is explained in the Landgate How to Guide entitled 'Joint tenants both deceased'.

What do I need for my application?

- Verification of Identity (VOI) the identity of the person(s) signing as applicant(s) must be verified
- Evidence of death of the deceased joint tenant
- Title Search (recommended) used to complete the application and statutory declaration forms
- Forms: Application by Survivor e-form (or paper Form A2 and Statutory Declaration (B3))
- Registration Fees payable to Landgate

Verification of Identity (VOI) - Identifying the applicant

A person may be represented or Self-represented. A represented person will be provided a statement of identity from their agent/solicitor.

A self-represented party is responsible for ensuring their own identity has been independently verified and complies with Landgate's VOI practice. Self-represented parties can have their identity verified at a participating Australia Post Office. Australia Post charges a fee for this service. For further information please refer to: https://auspost.com.au/id-and-document-services/identity-checks-for-property-transfers

For information regarding the Verification of Identity Practice refer to the Verification of Identity webpage on the Landgate website.

The original signed Statement - Self-represented Party letter issued by Australia Post must be produced and lodged with the application document.

Importantly, any applicant (natural person) signing the application outside of Australia is subject to specific identity and witnessing requirements. Persons residing overseas must seek an industry professional for assistance.

Evidence of Death

This is usually provided by producing the original death certificate that has been issued from the office of the Registrar of Births, Deaths and Marriages. An original probate document issued by the Probate Office is also acceptable as evidence for the application.

A copy of the death certificate or probate document certified by a Justice of the Peace or a similarly qualified person is not acceptable.

Landgate is required to sight the original death certificate or original probate document. If the application is lodged in person, the original evidence will be returned at the time of lodgement. If the application is posted to Landgate, the original evidence will be returned to the customer with their receipt. A copy certified by Australia Post, a licensed settlement agent or a legal practitioner will also be accepted (refer to Land Transactions Policy and Procedure Guide DOC-04 Statutory Declarations and Supporting Evidence).

Title Search – A copy of the current Certificate of Title

A title search is optional, however highly recommended, as the search provides you with a complete up-to-date copy of the title at the date and time the title search is conducted.

For a fee, you can conduct a title search online and obtain a copy of a Record of Certificate of Title.
